

Charming and kind, Elwood P. Dowd has only one character flaw: an unwavering friendship with a 6-foot-tall, invisible white rabbit named Harvey. In order to save the family's social reputation, Elwood's sister Veta takes Elwood to the local sanatorium. But when the doctors mistakenly commit his anxiety-ridden sister, Elwood — and Harvey — slip out of the hospital unbothered, setting off a hilarious whirlwind of confusion and chaos as everyone in town tries to catch a man and his invisible rabbit.

Meet the Director, Todd Wente

Todd has spent most of his life on stage in one capacity or another. His first public performance was at the age of two, and from that moment forward the performing arts would dominate his life. With the exception of a short hiatus when his family was very young, Todd has made the stage a major part of his life. His passion for creative and character driven storytelling is well known among his contemporaries, both as a performer and a director. An enthusiastic student of the arts, Todd recognizes how critical it is that every experience add to the creative tools of the performer and strives to create a learning atmosphere in all productions he is involved with. Harvey will mark the 6th production with the Farmington City Arts Council, and he is thrilled to be working on this project.

Auditions for Harvey will be August 9, 2014 from 9 - Noon
The show will run October 8 - 11, 2014.

For details please visit our website at ww.farmington.utah.gov/leisure\_services.arts